

ABT-CS2 model color sorter

ABT-CS2 Color Sorter: Advanced Sorting Technology for Increased Productivity and Profitability

The ABT-CS2 color sorter is a modern and advanced sorting machine with a nominal grain inlet capacity of 1.5-3 tons per hour. It utilizes 3D scanning technology to separate grains based on their color and size.

Key Features:

- High capacity: The machine can sort up to 3 tons of grains per hour.
- High accuracy: It can separate grains with an accuracy of 99.99%.
- Adjustable: The machine can be adjusted to sort different types of grains with various colors and sizes.
- Stable performance: It features stable and reliable operation.
- Easy maintenance: The machine has an ergonomic and simplified design, making it easy to maintain.

Benefits for Various Industries:

The ABT-CS2 color sorter offers numerous advantages for various industries. It can lead to increased product quality, reduced costs, and improved work safety.

Enhanced Product Quality:

The machine can effectively separate low-quality grains from high-quality ones, resulting in superior product quality. For example, using this machine for wheat sorting can eliminate contaminated, damaged, and broken wheat kernels from healthy ones. This ensures that final products, such as flour, have higher quality standards.

Reduced Costs:

Utilizing this machine can significantly reduce manual sorting costs and contribute to increased productivity. For instance, manual wheat sorting is a time-consuming and labor-intensive process that requires a large workforce. The ABT-CS2 color sorter can expedite and simplify this process, considerably decreasing wheat sorting costs.

Improved Work Safety:

The machine can enhance work safety and prevent worker injuries. Manual wheat sorting, for example, can pose various risks, including injuries from using hand tools and accidents caused by falling grains. The ABT-CS2 color sorter minimizes these risks, creating a safer working environment.

Overall, the ABT-CS2 color sorter is a modern and advanced machine that can offer numerous benefits to various industries. For more information about this product, please scan the QR code below.

