

R-70 roast chicken crisper

This product is a tenderizer and water-absorber for chicken meats, such as chicken kebab, breast steak, and chicken nuggets. It provides the consumer with a tender meat texture that is also juicy and toothsome. The raw materials required are approved for use after entering the company and after undergoing the necessary tests by the quality control department. They are then transferred from the quarantine warehouse to the main raw materials warehouse. They are then weighed according to the formulation and sent to the production hall for mixing in a mixer. After the required time for uniform mixing of the raw materials, they are removed from the machine and packaged in 25-kilogram packages in three-layer hygienic bags (moisture-proof, etc.). They are then transferred to the quarantine warehouse of the finished goods for microbiological testing, quality control, and final approval before being sent to the warehouse of finished goods.
